Play for the Planet!

Green Toys provide safe, earth-friendly playthings for kids and families.

As part of the solution for a more sustainable future, Green Toys nurture young minds and bright futures through products made free of harm to children and the planet. Let's create a world that's joyful, healthful, and full of possibility, where play is awesome, adventurous, and never-ending.

Hello!

With a name like Green Toys, you better believe we're passionate about the earth and its children. Environmental and social responsibility drive our passion for unquestionably safe and playful products for kids and families.

We started small, garage-small, in 2007, with a little idea and a whole lot of passion. We developed a process for turning milk jugs into 100% BPA-free recycled plastic, and then on to recyclable kid goods. Today, we lead the earth-friendly toy industry, continuously experimenting, innovating and perfecting our technique for the best products possible.

Thank you for supporting Green Toys and a playful planet.

Safety is #1

Green Toys is a California-based company, doing business in a state known for its strict safety and environmental laws. The toys are BPA-free, contain no traceable Phthalates or external coatings.

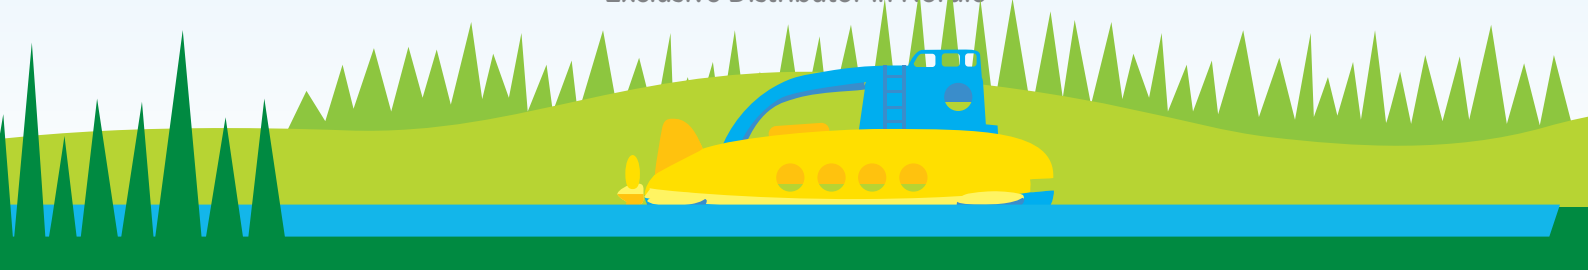

They pass the following safety tests with flying colors: FDA food-safe, No BPA (Bisphenol-A), California Prop. 65, CPSIA Consumer Products Safety Standard Specification, ASTM F963, and International standards EN71 and ISO 8124.

Recycled Materials

Green Toy products demonstrate that recycling results in something tangible and meaningful - old can become new, and kids can see their environmental efforts in action. Toys begin as milk jugs. They are collected, cleaned, reprocessed into raw material, and mixed with food-safe, mineral-based coloring. Voilà, it's playtime!
